

Dear Friend:

Whether or not you are familiar with the successes of Charleston Habitat for Humanity, we think you'll want to join the community and the College of Charleston as we plan to blitz build a home in February 2008. The City of Charleston has donated property, the future homeowners have been selected, and plans and permits are under way.

Even with Bono and Brad Pitt making us aware of poverty worldwide, you may be surprised to learn that beautiful Charleston lacks affordable housing for our own working poor. We have the opportunity to make a difference for one family: the Nelson family, Angie, D'Angelo, Shameka, Ronald, and Ashleigh, eagerly awaits their new home.

This fall we are rolling up our sleeves to raise the funds for the home's construction. We need $65,000 to pay for building materials and expenses that cannot be donated or volunteered.

We are asking you to contribute $25 (any donation is welcome--every penny counts!) to our goal. Please check on our progress, sign-up to volunteer, or donate online through our website: www.cofc.edu/blitzbuild.

We look forward to improving Charleston for everyone as we move towards breaking ground on this new home in February of 2008!

Sincerely,
