

Cougars Helping Enhance the Community

Staying in Charleston for Maymester?

Score some FREE stuff for your apartment!

The CHEC center is looking for volunteers to help move large pieces of furniture during Move Out, Help Out. Our trucks will be going around Downtown Charleston collecting couches, dressers, etc that are left on the curbside. Our goal is to keep as much “junk” out of Charleston landfills as possible.

Move Out, Help Out

Volunteer Details:

When: May 19th and May 26th

Where: Addlestone Library on the corner of Calhoun and Coming

Time: 8 am– 12pm

MOHO in the dorms was a huge success this year. Tons of gently used dorm items and clothing were donated to My Sister’s House, the Noisette Foundation and Goodwill. Items found in May will also be donated to those in need.

Why Help Out?

Moving into a new apartment? Keep your clothing in a filing cabinet instead of a dresser? By volunteering, you will have access to tons of large furniture pieces that are often in good shape. All those who volunteer will be able to take home any items they may need.

During the MOHO in the dorms, volunteers who helped sort and distribute items could keep anything they found. Volunteers walked away with lamps, designer clothing, kitchen items and tons more, all for FREE. You never know what you could find– Someone even donated a 37-inch color TV! To sign up, see CHEC’s information below.
